

EFFECTIVE E-GOVERNMENT STRATEGIES

18 TO 22 APRIL 2016

Sponsored by the

SINGAPORE COOPERATION PROGRAMME

under the

SINGAPORE COOPERATION PROGRAMME TRAINING AWARD /
SMALL ISLAND DEVELOPING STATES TECHNICAL COOPERATION PROGRAMME

to be conducted by the

SINGAPORE E-GOVERNMENT LEADERSHIP CENTRE NATIONAL UNIVERSITY OF SINGAPORE

Singapore Cooperation Programme

Singapore has provided technical assistance to other developing countries since the 1960s. As a country whose only resource is its people, Singapore believes that human resource development is vital for economic and social progress. Singapore itself has benefited from training provided by other countries and international organisations.

In 1992, the Singapore Cooperation Programme (SCP) was established to bring together under one framework the various technical assistance programmes offered by Singapore. Through the SCP, the range and number of training programmes were increased to share Singapore's development experience with other developing countries. To date, Singapore has sponsored training courses and study visits for over 90,000 officials from more than 170 countries. The SCP is managed by the Technical Cooperation Directorate of the Singapore Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

Singapore e-Government Leadership Centre, National University of Singapore

The Singapore e-Government Leadership Centre (eGL) was established in 2006 at the Institute of System Science (ISS), National University of Singapore, with the objective of providing world-class training, research and consulting in the domain of e-Government. Its founder members include the National University of Singapore (NUS), Institute of Systems Science (ISS), Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy (LKYSPP) and Infocomm Development Authority (IDA).

eGL has successfully combined the leadership and domain expertise of its stakeholders to create a unique value proposition of practice-based, content rich training materials embedded with policy, planning, innovation and implementation experiences to yield a comprehensive training curriculum.

Course Objectives

This course will provide an understanding of e-Government and its best practices, and explain how e-Government strategies can be implemented by public sector organisations for outreach and transformational purposes.

The course will also share Singapore's whole-of-government approach to its e-Citizen portal and other e-services.

Synopsis

This course will explore the vision of the smart, connected society, and will consider the driving forces, risks and opportunities related to the concept. It will build participant skills and knowledge in the areas of fostering collaboration, co-creation, transformational change, planning, leadership and leveraging of technology in the context of smart nation in order to design and deliver successful integrated programmes.

Topics to be covered would include:

- Singapore Smart Nation Programme, Digital Transformation and Best Practices
- Data Analytics and Managing Change
- Opportunities, Benefits, Risks and Challenges
- Service Innovation and Social Media

Methodology

The fundamental design philosophy is "experiential learning". As such the curriculum is carefully designed with lectures, experience sharing, discussions, and site visits to ensure maximum participation and experiential learning, such that the key learning points are entrenched well.

Duration

The course will be held from 18 to 22 April 2016.
