Message from 2019 ex-Participants

“This experience was a tool to expand the horizon of knowledge, through sharing the experience of Japan in waterworks to achieve the sound management and water service with coverage of 100% and supply for 24/7.

The program had steered our minds to a new level of thinking of the issues that we face, also guided us through out main outlines to figure out the whole picture, not only limiting our thinking of trying to resolve one issue, as those subjects are related to each other and needed to be treated as one.”

Message from JICA Program Officer (Mr. Tatsuaki Inoue)

You may be amazed to see the differences between low coverage rate and poor hygiene conditions regarding water supply in Japan shortly after the World War II and the present day status. For two weeks, you will have opportunities to discuss with your colleagues from other countries and Japanese professionals to understand what made these dramatic changes possible.

We are looking forward to receiving many applications from those who are passionate about making such changes by solving issues through innovations in this field!
